

The no call list shouldn't even be necessary, but it is and it should remain an option for the people of Wisconsin for both residential and cell phones. If I am interested in your product or service, I will call or visit you in your place of business. That is why you are in business. I promise not to come your place of business and cook my dinner, if you promise to stay out of my kitchen uninvited.